He has traveled extensively as a Missionary, Itinerate and Conference Speaker throughout the world. This father of four currently lives and resides in Essex County, New Jersey.

Training and International Experience

As a specialist in the area, I have spent many years training and leading many people into the arena of learning to hearing from the Lord as he has speaks through these abundant means. As a specialist in this area of the prophetic administration, a new reform has emerging within the body of Christ and the service demanded for this entire arena has been severely increased. The demand has placed my qualifications on high demand both in the areas of private and public administrations.

I have spent a major of my time as a specialist teaching and training many people in the areas of intercession, intercessory prayers, the prophetic ministry and many other areas.

I was appointed as an instructor and adjunct professor at the School of Apostles specializing on Ethics, Protocols and Practicum. I have acquired the international experience and forte that it takes to write this and multitudes of other works. Since then I have intensely concentrated on my writings having written such manuscript as The Prophetic Life: Powerful Truths for Powerful Leadership, The Prophetic Life Workbook, Jubilante: The Joys of Intercession, The MarketPlace Anointing and The Power of Prophetic Vision, Successful Women Vol. 1 & Vol. 2 etc.,

CHRONOLOGICAL EXPERIENCE

In 2001-2004 I had began to study Business Administration at Seneca College for 2 Yr and was very successful. I am on the Dean's List, won the Presidential Award two-years in a row and won an award of computers and computer related-products from CSW. In 1998-1999, returning to Canada from the mission field, I studied at Canadore College, Canadian Securities Institute and obtained my Certificate of Independent Financial Advisor (CSI), becoming an independent financial advisor. Before I was called into the foreign services, I studied Mechanical Engineering at Ryerson University.

Recently, I worked as a Peer-to-Peer counselor and mentor, supporting staff and educational facilitator; as a specialist in Crisis-Prevention and outpatient program development also in the field of Mental Health and Psychiatric Caregiver.

Earlier, I was a Mentor of Children, giving aid and helping to take kids to special events, artistic performances and entertainment. I am the Founder of a publishing company; managing a staff of seven (7) to twelve (12) employees. As a Publisher, I was first a national Sales Manager/Market Development manager. We increased our sales and doubled sales per representative, suggested new products to buyers that increased earnings by projected 150% and Implemented training course for new recruits — speeding profitability. I also worked as a Program Developer, as an International Missionary, Itinerate & Conference Speaker, Program Manager/Coordinate of trips and planning. I was also employed as a Chief Operations Officer (COO) of external and foreign affairs including Consular Officer securing travel documents, planning and executing outreach programs.

Throughout my lifetime, my work has been deeply committed to helping people. All of my resources, time and strength have been deeply invested into human development. Through this, I have been exposed to a plethora of diplomatic agencies. I have lived a very high life while serving in many obscure places. Through diversity training, self-development and international exposure, I have earned respect and the satisfaction of helping others grow and develop while enjoying my jobs like a missionary on the beach in Barbados.

As my hobby, I like to run, fish, hunt, mountain climb, sleep, travel, write, engage in professional speaking club like “Toastmasters”, practice my dancing steps and working with computers. The kinds of book that I love to read are faith-motivational and inspiration materials specifically in the area of biography. I simply enjoyed reading writings like Katherine Khulmann's "Daughter of Destiny" and the biography of Sadhu Sindhar Singh.

I have travelled and lived extensively into sub-Saharan Africa, the Caribbean regions mainly in the Caricom Markets Communities including South America, Western Europe, throughout Canada and the United States as a field and foreign missionary. Throughout these engagements I have been involved in International Trade through NAFTA, border trade specializing in paper products and print media with local missions offices.
